PREFACE

Fact Book 1996-97 is the eleventh edition, and it provides snapshots of data representing slices in time about Southern Illinois University at Carbondale. The most current data available are enclosed and includes official 10-day Fall 1996 enrollment, faculty and staff data from the October, 1996 payroll, degrees conferred data for Fiscal Year 1996, and Fiscal Year 1997 budget data. In addition, historical data for two through ten-year periods as well as statewide comparative data is enclosed.

The availability of historical data as well as the information needs of the Fact Book customers drives the final spreadsheets and graphs. Frequently requested information about Southern Illinois University at Carbondale by staff and external customers to the campus is captured in the tables with support of graphical presentations.

This fact book is composed of five sections, including information about enrollments and student characteristics, academic programs, budget, student finance, and faculty and staff. Sources of the data are identified and encompass annual external reports to various state and federal agencies, internal databases, including the students and faculty/staff databases, and the cooperation of various on-campus units at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale.

Questions and comments regarding Fact Book 1996-97 are encouraged and welcomed as we attempt to meet the needs of the Fact Book customers. This year, methods of acquiring customer feedback on campus included a mailed survey to all on-campus customers of the Fact Book. The input received is invaluable as the Fact Book continues to improve and evolve.

STATEMENT OF MISSION

Southern Illinois University at Carbondale, now in its second century, is a major public higher education institution dedicated to quality academic endeavors in teaching and research, to supportive programming for student needs and development, to effective social and economic initiatives in community, regional, and statewide contexts, and to affirmative action and equal opportunity.

Enrolling students throughout Illinois and the United States and from a large number of foreign countries, SIUC actively promotes the intellectual and social benefits of cultural pluralism, encourages the participation of non-traditional groups, and intentionally provides a cosmopolitan and general education context which expands student horizons and leads to superior undergraduate education.

Seeking to meet educational, vocational, social and personal needs for its diverse population of students and helping them fully realize their potential is a central purpose of the University. Emphasis on accessibility and regional service which creates distinctive instructional, research, and public service programs also gives SIUC its special character among the nation's research universities, and underlies other academic developments, such as its extensive doctoral programs and the schools of medicine and law.

Committed to the concept that research and creative activity are inherently valuable, the University supports intellectual exploration at advanced levels in traditional disciplines and in numerous specialized research undertakings, some of which are evolved from staff and faculty strengths, and mature in keeping with long-term preparation and planning.

Even as the University constantly strives to perpetuate high quality in both instruction and research, it continues a long tradition of service to its community and region. Its unusual strengths in the creative and performing arts provide wide-ranging educational, entertainment, and cultural opportunities for its students, faculty, staff, and the public at large. Its programs of public service and its involvement in the civic and social development of the region are manifestations of a general commitment to enhance the quality of life through the exercise of academic skills and application of problem-solving techniques. The University seeks to help solve social, economic, educational, scientific, and technological problems, and thereby to improve the well being of those whose lives come into contact with it.

Approved by the SIU Board of Trustees at the October 13, 1988 Meeting

SIUC PROFILE 1996

Overview

Southern Illinois University at Carbondale, chartered in 1869, is a comprehensive, state-supported institution with nationally and internationally recognized instructional, research, and service programs. Southern Illinois University is a multicampus university comprised of two institutions, Southern Illinois University at Carbondale (SIUC) with a School of Medicine at Springfield and a campus in Nakajo, Japan, and Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville (SIUE) with a School of Dental Medicine at Alton and a center in East St. Louis. SIUC includes: Carbondale; CTC Carterville campus; Southern Illinois Airport; outdoor laboratories; University Farms. SIUC is a Research II University as classified by the 1994 Carnegie Classifications of Higher Education. This category includes institutions that "offer a full range of baccalaureate programs, are committed to graduate education through the doctorate, and give high priority to research." SIUC is the only Carnegie Research II university in Illinois.

Accreditations

SIUC has Institutional Accreditation with the following agencies: Illinois State Board of Education (ISBE), National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE), North Central Association of Colleges and Schools, National Association of Schools of Art and Design.

Faculty

The University faculty is dedicated to excellence in teaching and to the advancement of knowledge in a wide variety of disciplines and professions. SIUC's faculty members are well known both nationally and internationally for their varied research contributions. Number 1 is the ranking given by the Journal of Applied Rehabilitation Counseling to the faculty of SIUC's Rehabilitation Institute for the quality and quantity of their research.

Distance Learning

SIUC belongs to two consortia for Southern Illinois higher education institutions, namely, the Southern Illinois Collegiate Common Market and the Southwestern Illinois Higher Education Consortium, participating in a state-wide initiative to use distance learning technology to offer courses electronically at off-campus sites. Also, the Telemedicine Network, recently developed, connects southern Illinois medical and educational facilities with the SIU School of Medicine in Springfield. The University's distance learning initiative is part of a broader effort to enhance instruction through multimedia technology.

Student Diversity

The State of Illinois ranks 5th nationally in the enrollment of international students. SIUC's student body includes 1,520 international students from 113 countries. Besides the international campus at Nakajo, Japan, SIUC has over 60 active international exchange agreements with countries around the world.

SIUC ranks fifth nationally for the number of African American students earning bachelor's degrees at traditionally white schools during the 1992-93 academic year (Black Issues in Higher Education, May 1996.) It also ranks 28th among all U.S. higher education institutions in the number of doctorates granted to African-American students (National Research Council survey; 1991-95 data). In Fall 1996, over 8 percent of SIUC doctoral degrees went to African Americans.

SIUC's student enrollment is made up of 57 percent men and 43 percent women.

In the 1950s, SIUC became one of the first campuses in the nation to become physically accessible to individuals with disabilities. Students with disabilities make up over 3 percent of the total enrollment.

SIUC students at off-campus sites across the U.S. make up 11 percent of the total student enrollment.

During FY 96, the University received 746 grant and contract awards totaling $45.3 million from outside agencies for research, training, and service projects (excluding awards administered by the Financial Aid Office). Research grants and contracts accounted for $25 million of the total. In addition, around 100 research and creative projects are funded each year through several internal grants programs coordinated by the Office of Research Development and Administration. SIUC's major research units include the Coal Research Center, the Cooperative Wildlife Research Laboratory, the Cooperative Fisheries Research Laboratory, the Materials Technology Center, the Center for Advanced Friction Studies, the Center for Archaeological Investigations, the Pontikes Center for Management of Information, and the Center for Alzheimer Disease and Related Disorders at the School of Medicine in Springfield.

NOTES:

- (1) Each graduation year contained all recorded graduations of students in a given cohort during December, May, and August.
- (2) Each cohort consisted of all new full-time freshmen (or transfers) entering SIUC in the respective summer and continuing into fall or entering in that fall semester for the first time. Only on-campus, degree-seeking students are included in each cohort. All cohorts were tracked through Summer Semester, 1996.
- (3) Non-persisting indicates that a student was enrolled at some point that year, but did not return the following year. For example, non-persisting after year two means a student was enrolled at some point during the second year, but did not return for the third year.

- (2) Graduate students' fees are $3.00 less than the total fees reported because they are not assessed the Student-to-Student Grant Program Fee.
- (3) Room and Board charges are based on double occupancy and includes an activity fee.
- (4) CPI and HEPI not available for 1996-97
- (5) Non-resident tuition is three times that of resident tuition.

Also, an Average Typical Charge was Reported where an Institution Assesses Different Tuition Charges for Upper and Lower Levels. Tuition and fee rates for all institutions assume 15 hour course loads per semester.

NOTE: (1) Decrease in Northeastern Illinois University's Tuition and Fees for 1990 to 1991 reflects the non-inclusion of optional health insurance charges for 1991.

(2) Tuition and Fees Reported for Southern Illinois University at Carbondale is based on 12 Credit Hours per semester for Fall semesters 1987-1992.

(3) Tuition and fee charges reflect 15 credit hours per semester beginning Fall 1993.
